

Update 13: United States of America - Extends Border Closure for Non-Essential Services with Canada and Mexico Until December 21, 2020

- The US land borders with Canada and Mexico are expected to remain closed to non-essential travel until December 21 at the earliest amid a rising number of US COVID-19 cases
- Mexico's Foreign Ministry also confirmed the decision later on Wednesday, November 18
- The current restrictions expire on Saturday, November 21, and the three countries were expected to approve another 30-day extension, officials said
- The US leads the world in COVID-19 cases and deaths, and cases are rising in all three countries
- The restrictions were first put in place in March 2020 to control the spread of COVID-19 and have been extended on a monthly basis ever since
- As of now, the country reported 11,873,727 confirmed COVID-19 cases with 256,254 deaths (2.2% of total reported cases), and 7,166,996 recovered (60.4% of the total reported cases)
- Supply Wisdom is continuously monitoring the situation and will alert you to any relevant developments
- Please consult the United States Department of Health and Human Services (<https://www.hhs.gov/>) for the latest information on COVID-19 in the United States of America
