

Update 46: United Kingdom - Government Plans to Ease COVID-19 Restrictions Over Festival

- The four nations of the United Kingdom have agreed to relax COVID-19 restrictions for Christmas to allow up to three households to meet at home for five days
- On November 24, England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland have reached agreement with London on rules governing the festive period
- During the period, three households will be able to form a "Christmas bubble", allowing them to meet up at home, places of worship and in outdoor public places but not at indoor hospitality or entertainment venues from December 23 until December 27
- Limits on travel will also be scrapped during this time
- On the other side, national lockdown in England is due to end next week after which different parts of the country will face varying restrictions as part of a tiered system
- The decision is expected later this week on which areas will fall into the different categories
- As of now, United Kingdom has reported 1,538,794 COVID-19 confirmed cases and 55,838 related deaths (3.6% of total reported cases)
- Supply Wisdom is continuously monitoring the situation and will alert you to any relevant developments
- Please consult Public Health England (<https://www.gov.uk/government/organisations/public-health-england>) for the latest information on COVID-19 in the United Kingdom
