

Update 10: Vietnam - Reports First Locally Transmitted COVID-19 Case in 89 days

- On November 30, 2020, Vietnam confirmed its first locally transmitted case of COVID-19 in 89 days, after the infection of a man related to a flight attendant who had tested positive after returning from Japan
- The country's Health Minister Nguyen Thanh Long has ordered provinces and state agencies to tighten screening and controls and contact tracing efforts after the incident
- Authorities said the latest case used to teach at language-learning centers and had been to cafes and karaoke bars since his exposure to the flight attendant
- They also added that those places had been closed since the test results
- Also, Vietnam announced it will allow people and organizations with full civic rights to use non-explosive firecrackers and fireworks for special occasions like weddings, birthday parties, and Lunar New Year celebrations, effective from January 11, 2021
- As of now, Vietnam reported 1,347 confirmed COVID-19 cases with 35 deaths (2.60% of total reported cases) and 1,179 recoveries (87.53% of total reported cases)
- Supply Wisdom is continuously monitoring the situation and will alert you to any relevant developments
