

Update 75: Germany - Plans to Lift COVID-19 Travel Warning for Most Countries Starting July 1, 2021

- On June 11, 2021, German government announced its plans to lift COVID-19 travel warning for most countries starting July 1, 2021
- With decline in the incidence rate which stands at 19 per 100,000 people
- This comes as German residents are increasingly getting vaccinated against COVID-19
- Countries recording infection rates of 50-200 cases per 100,000 people in seven days would no longer be deemed a “risk-zone”
- Restrictions however remain in place for countries with higher levels of infections, or where virus variants are circulating such as United Kingdom or India
- Germany excluded Azerbaijan from list of high-risk countries
- Earlier, the country eased most curbs allowing shops and restaurants to reopen
- Reported COVID-19 stats for Germany:
  1. Confirmed Cases: 3,720,811
  2. Deaths: 90,398 (2.43%)
  3. Recoveries: 3,569,000 (95.92)
  4. Vaccine Doses Administered: 59,038,531
  5. Fully Vaccinated: 20,648,461 (24.8%)
- Supply Wisdom is continuously monitoring the situation and will alert you to any relevant developments
